

Williams

Special Collections Coloring Book

Color our collections!

As a general practice we discourage bringing paints, colored pencils and crayons into Special Collections (for all the obvious reasons). We know you're disappointed. But here's the next best thing: The Special Collections Coloring Book.

Make your mark on these rare images from the Williams College Archives and the Chapin Library of rare books without facing a hefty fine. The following pictures range from a 15th-century page from the Nuremberg Chronicle to 20th-century line drawings of campus buildings.

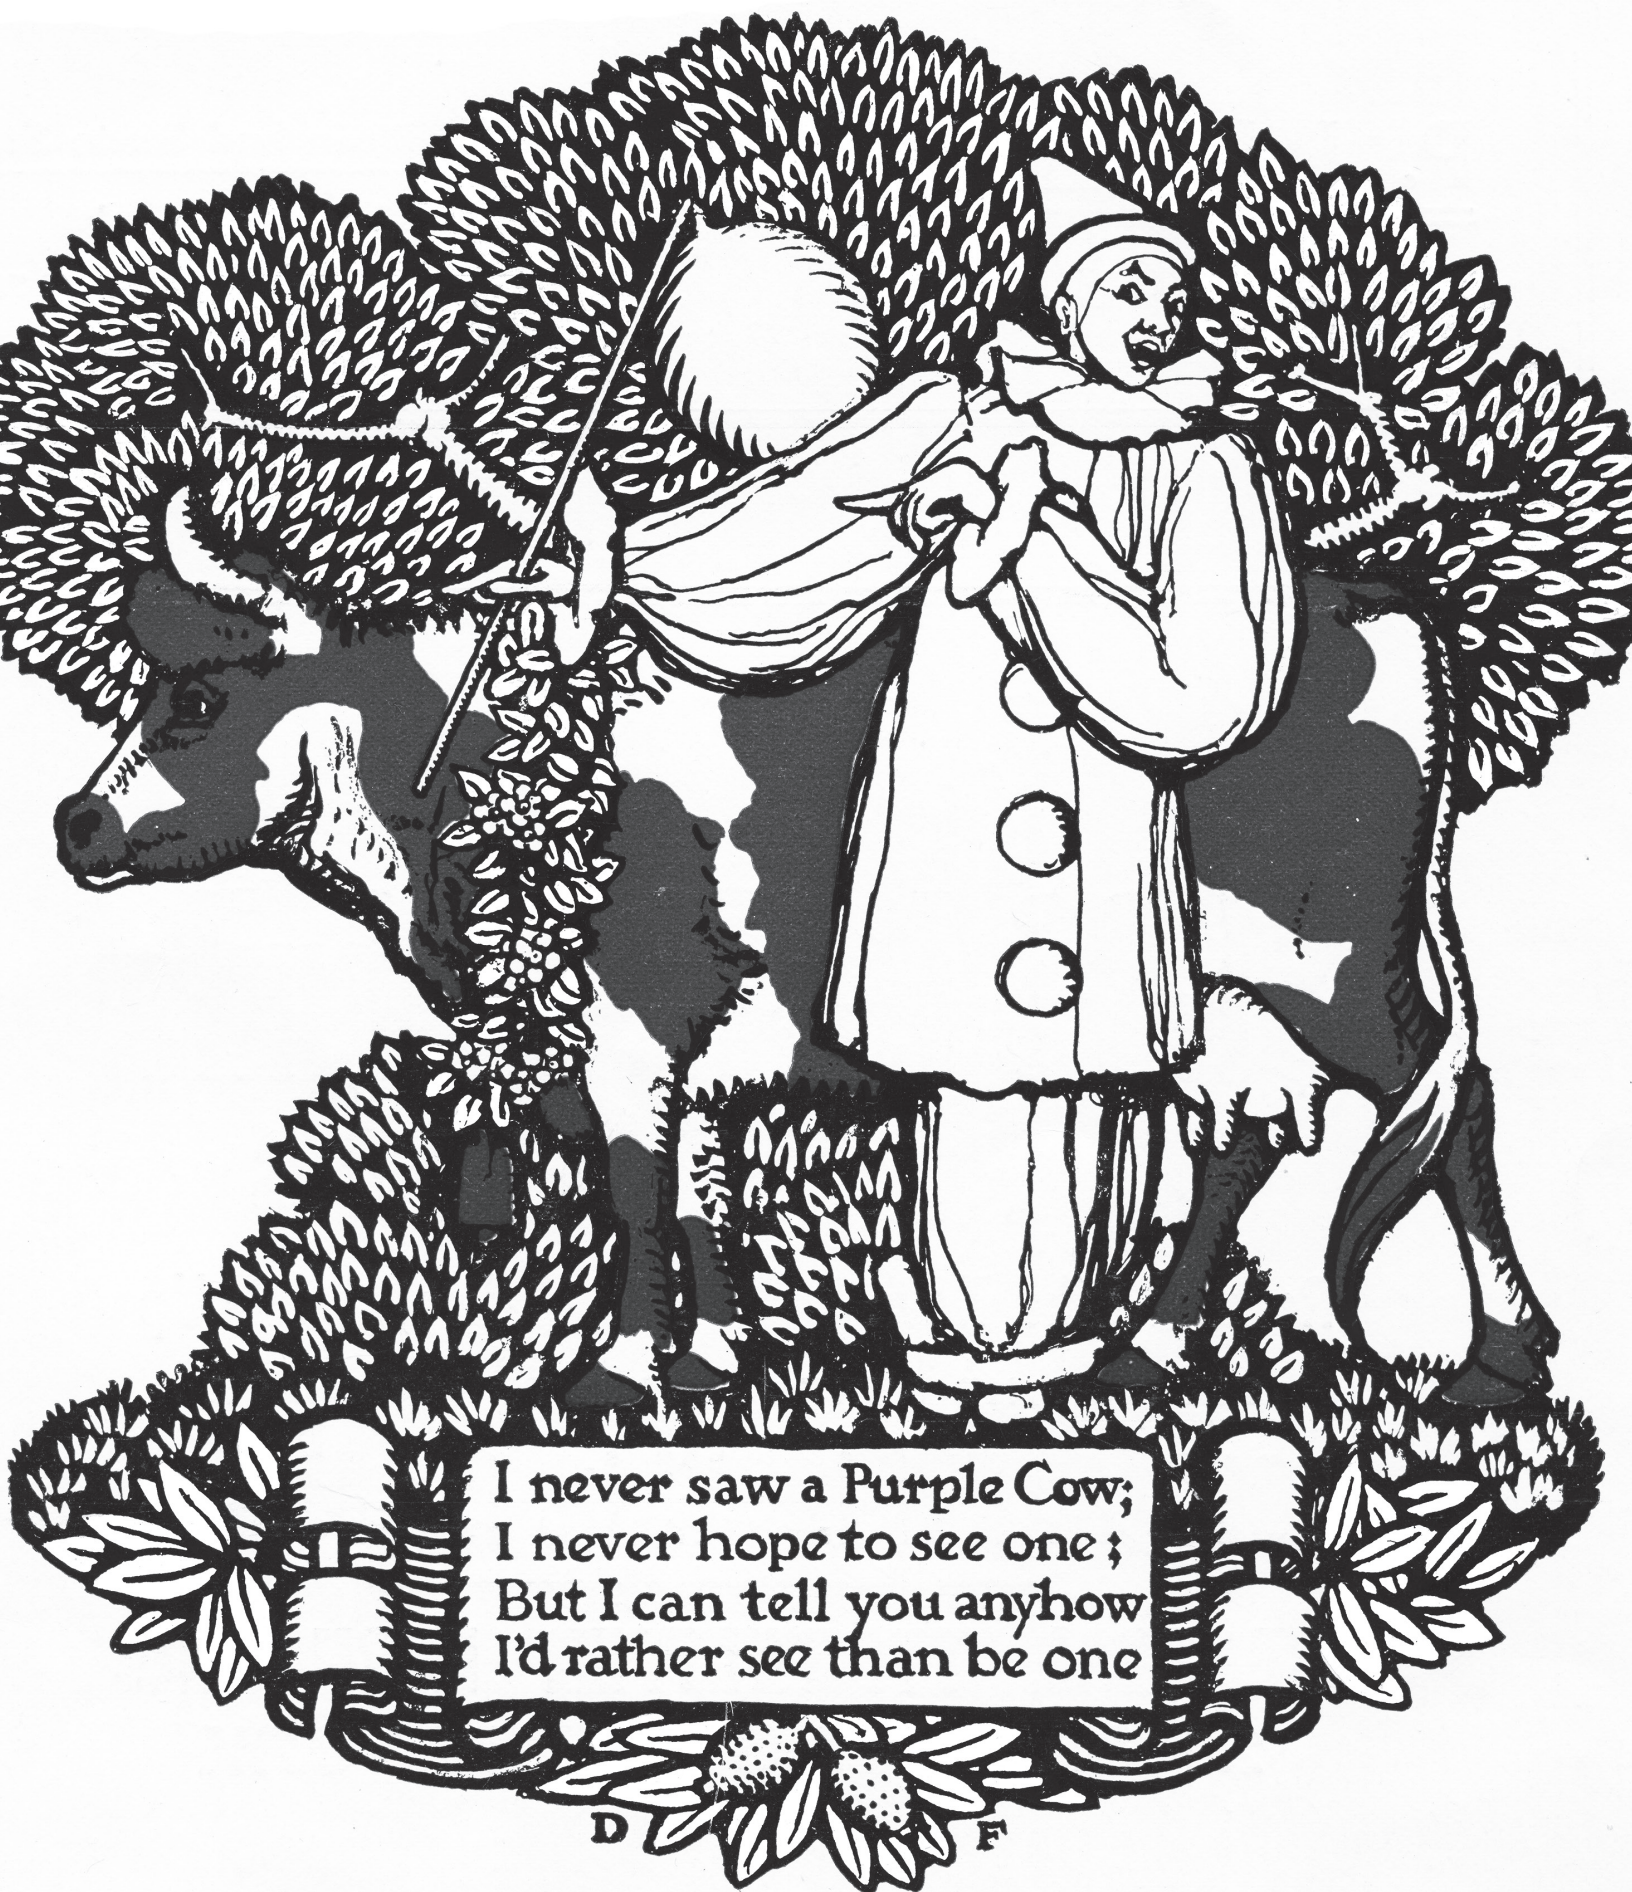

College Archives is home to the history and records of Williams College. Its collections encompass more than 8,000 linear feet. The Chapin Library contains some 70,000 books and more than 100,000 manuscripts, prints, drawings, and photos. Both the Archives and the Chapin Library actively support up-close learning and research using rare and unique materials.

Few special collections libraries in the U.S. equal or surpass Williams'. Come see the originals any time. We are located in Sawyer Library and open to the public. We recommend making an appointment before you visit.

Share your masterpieces with us via Twitter @LibrarEphs using #colorourcollections!

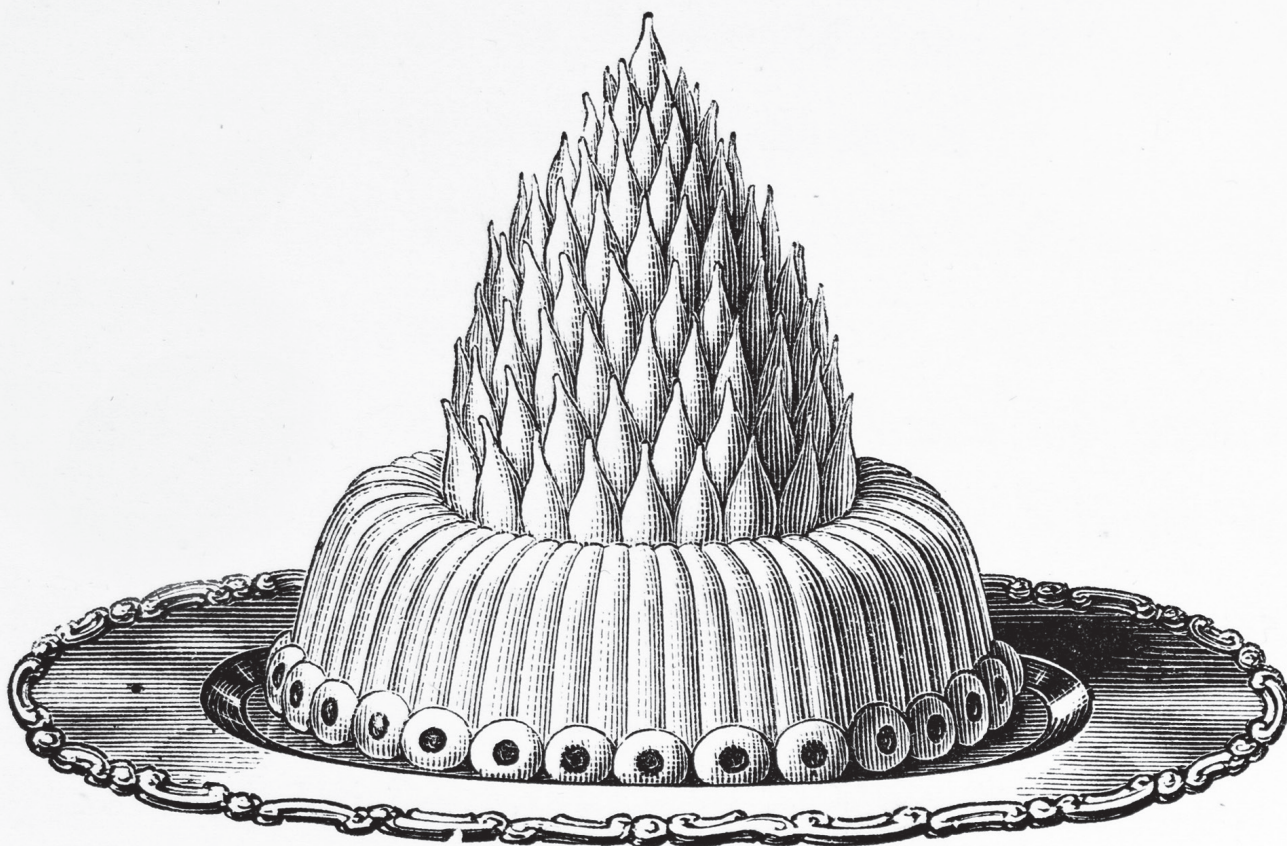

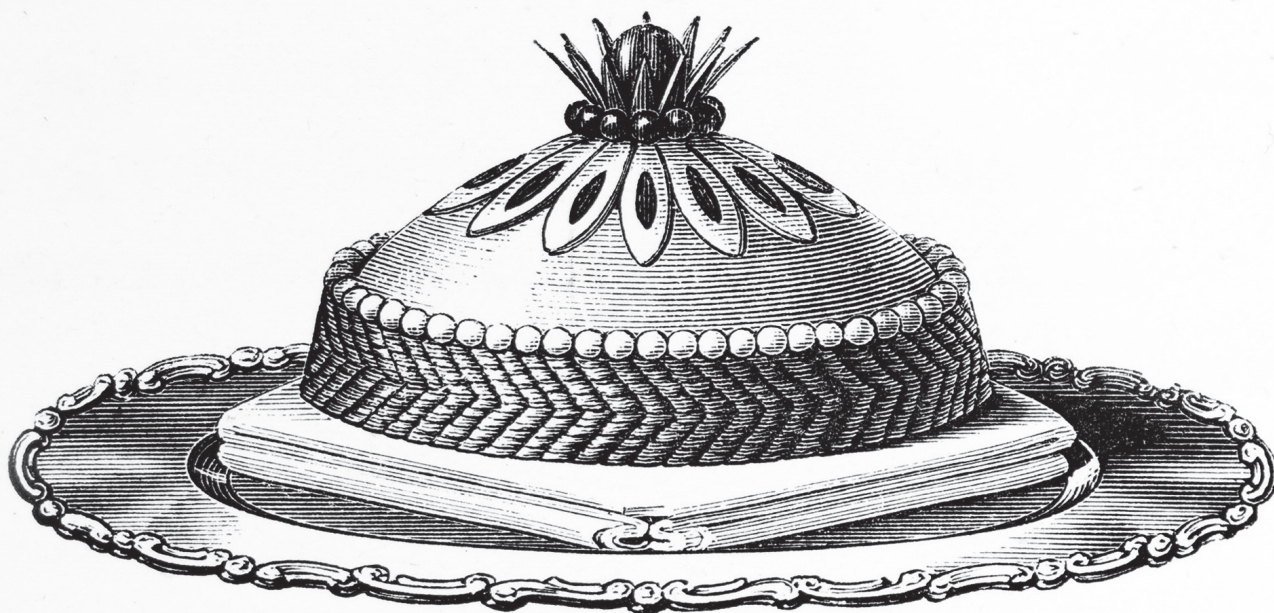

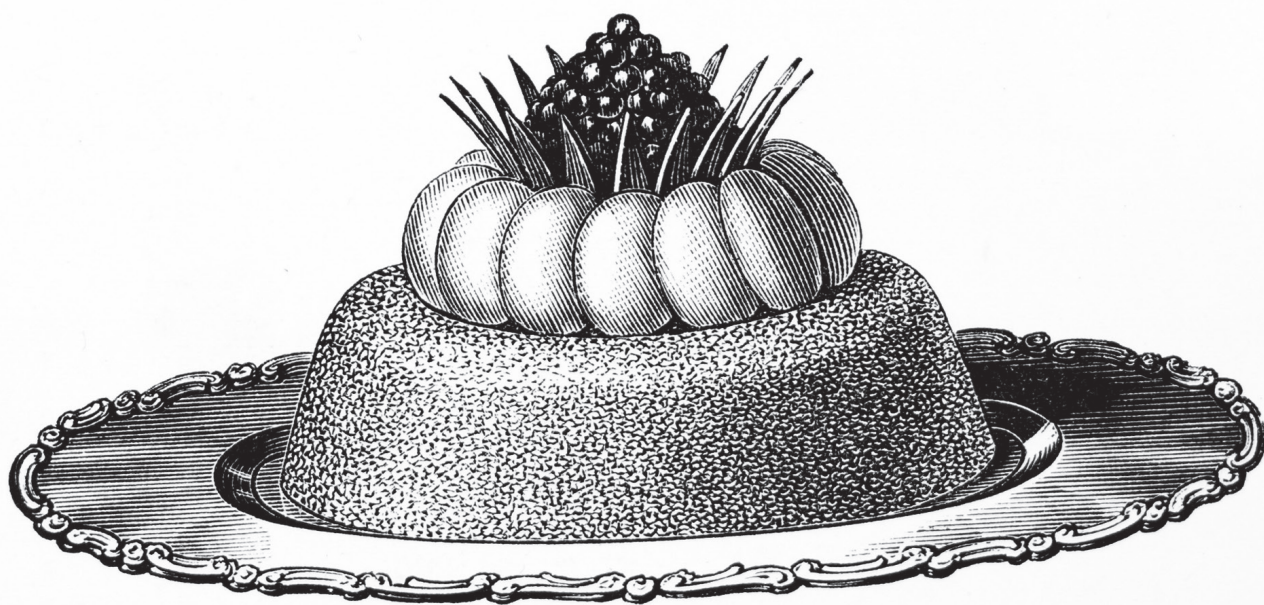

DESSIN 26.

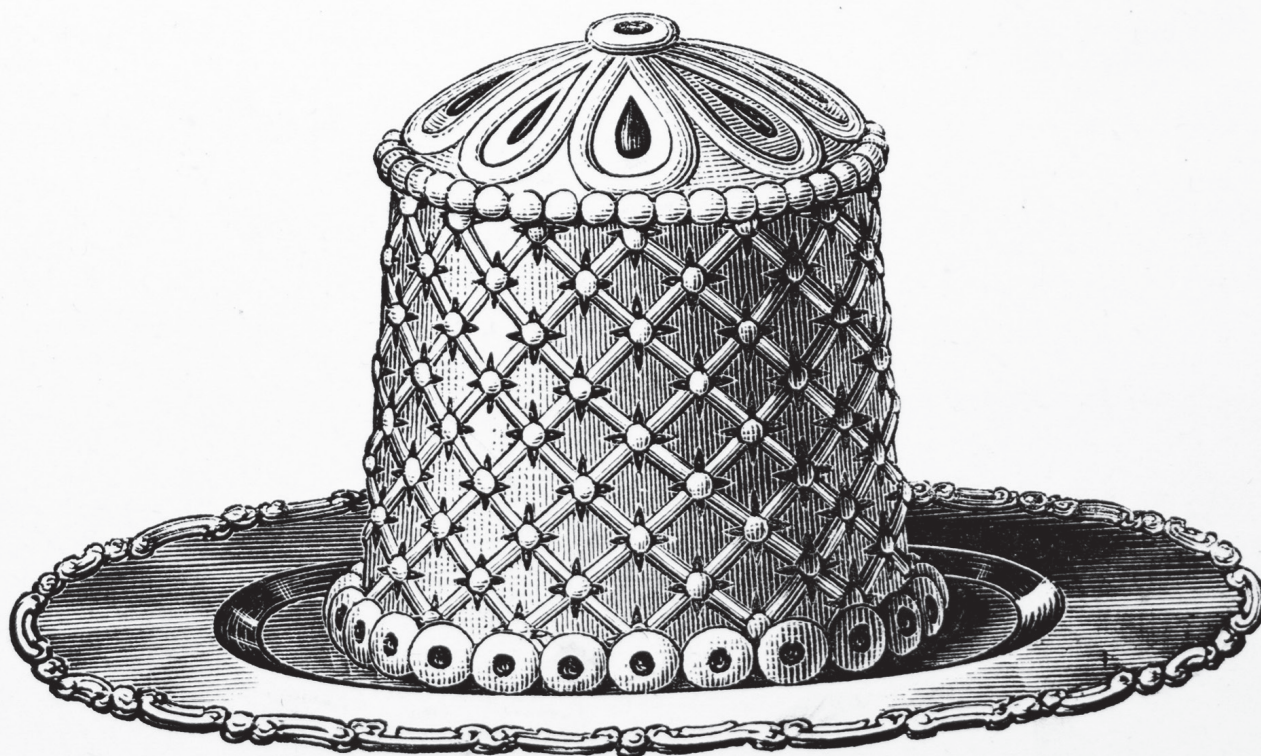

DESSIN 28.

DESSIN 31.

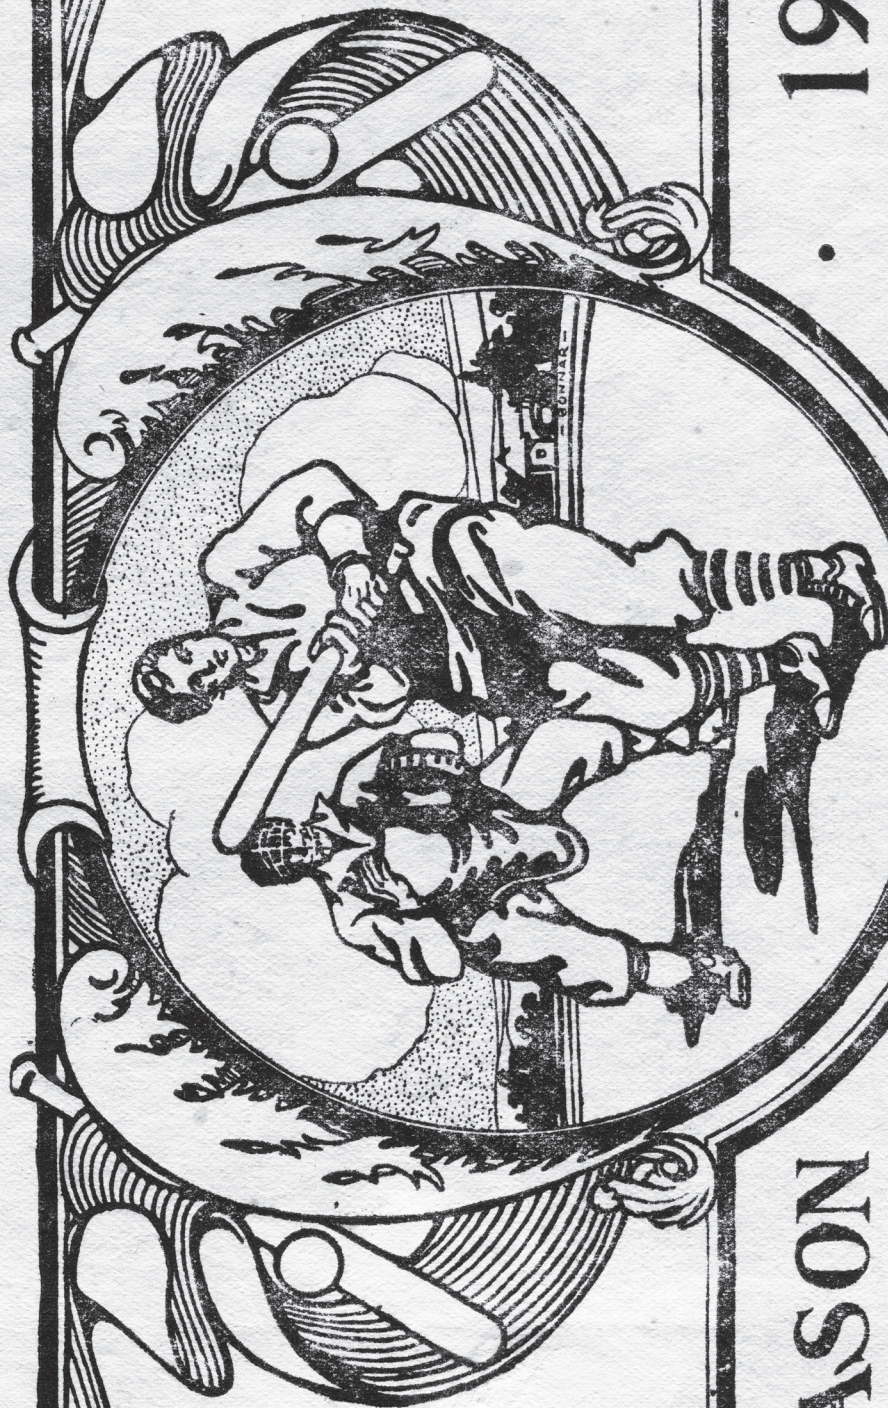

DESSIN 33.

Amherst

vs.

Williams

1911.

SEASON

The Williams Graphic and Literary Monthly
Artist Unknown
Published by the Students of
Williams College, 1921

The Purple Cow
Artist Unknown
Published by the Students of
Williams College, 1908

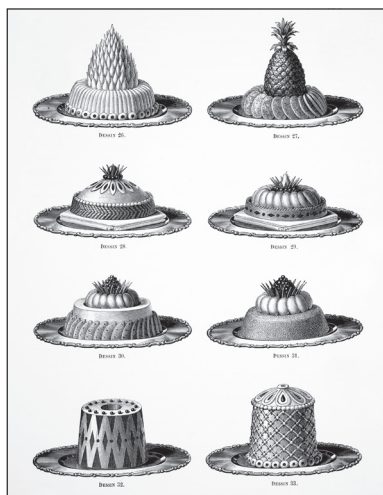

De Historia Stirpium
Leonhart Fuchs
Printed by Michael Isingrin,
1542

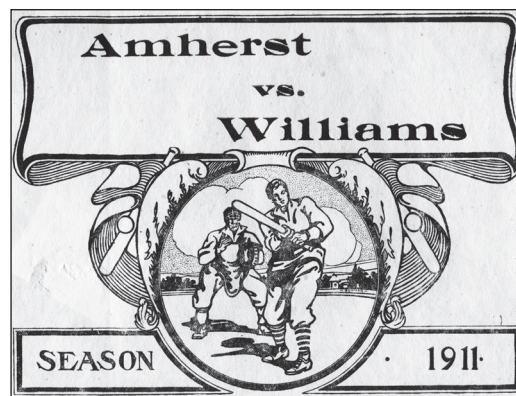

Astronomiae Instauratae Mechanica
Tycho Brahe
Printed by Levinus Hulsius,
1602

Liber Chronicarum
(Nuremberg Chronicle)
Hartmann Schedel
Printed by Anton Koberger,
1493

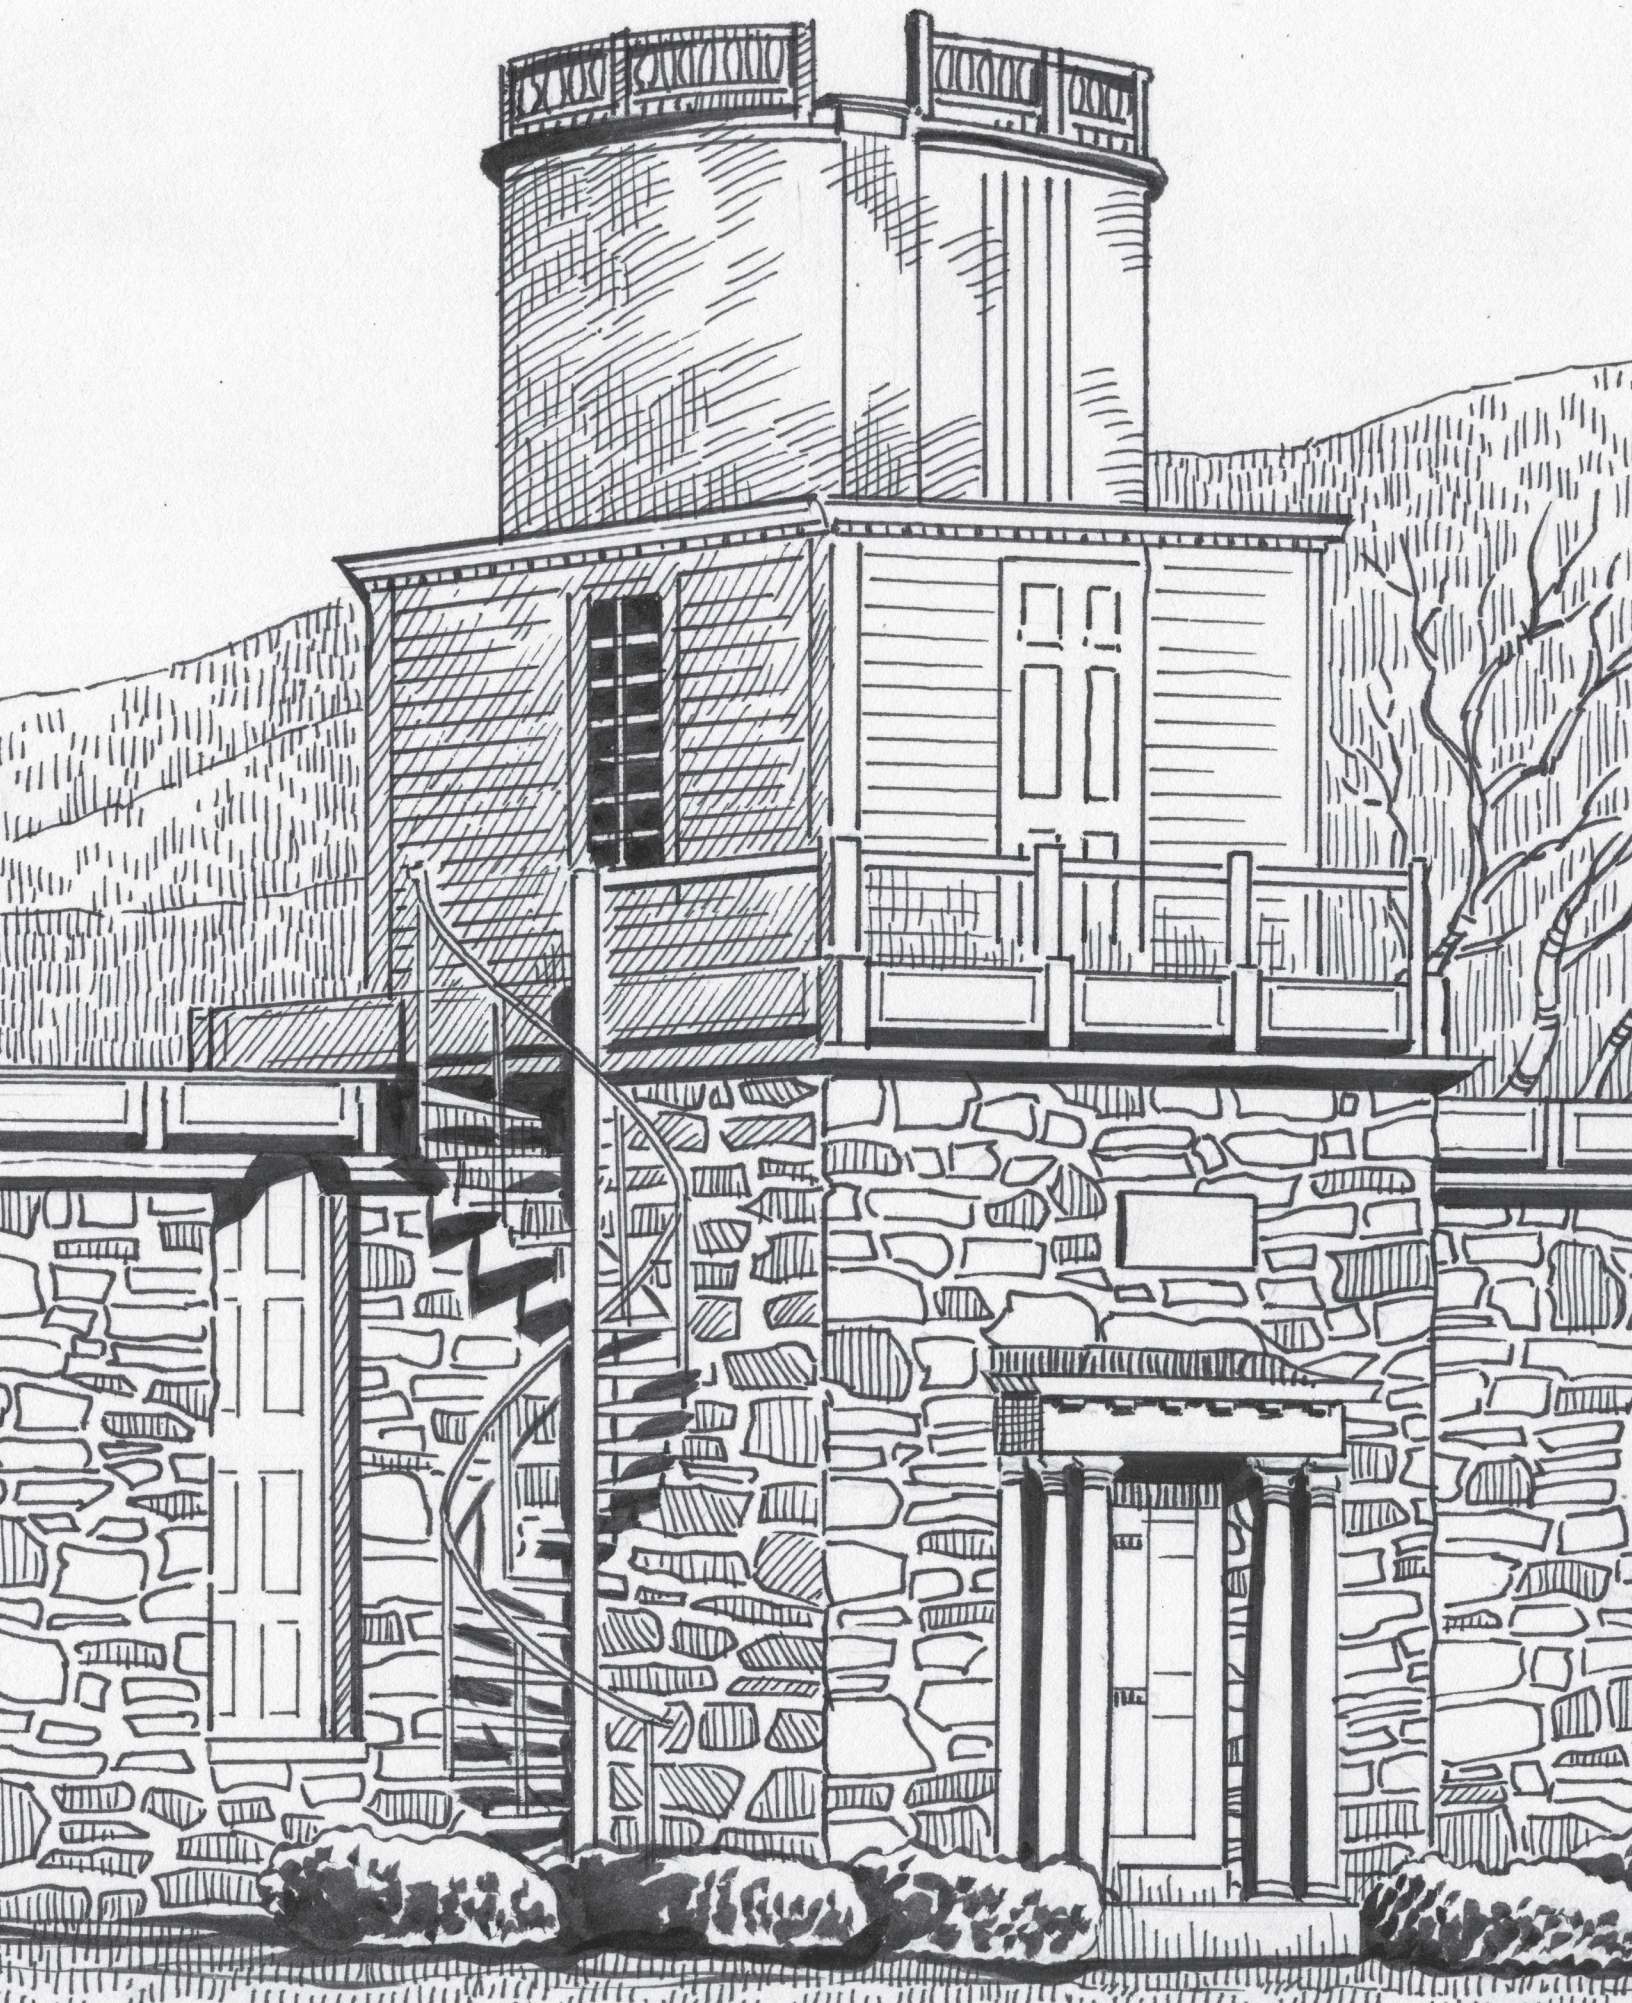

Grand livre des patissiers et des confiseurs
Urbain-Dubois
Librairie E. Dentu,
1883

Official Baseball Program Season
Nineteen Hundred Eleven
Artist Unknown
Published in the Interest of the
Williams College Baseball Association, 1911

Front and back cover illustrations by Brent Cardillo, used for the 1999 publication What's In A Name